DAN DELLER // JR WEB DEVELOPER

Hailing from the east coast, Dan showed up at our doorstep with an eagerness to learn and contribute to the team. After spending a few years in the Navy as an electronics technician, and seeing a lot of the world, he shifted gears towards the development industry. Currently attending Coleman U he boasts a background in HTML4/5, CSS2/3, Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, and has a constant drive to always learn new developing tools. Match that with a background in networking and he has quickly made himself a valuable asset to our team.

SEAN FARIAS // ACCOUNT MANAGER

A true native San Diegan, Sean Farias grew up locally with frequent exposure to the southern California marketplace. After finishing his secondary education, he left for the east coast to supplement his studies with a bachelor's degree. Settling at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, he then completed a double major in Economics and Sociology. After living several months abroad in Europe gathering international business knowledge, he then returned to the beautiful California climate. Mr. Farias expertise is largely centered around the service industry.

PAUL MCMAHON // JR WEB DEVELOPER

With the world at his fingertips, Paul recognizes his interest and endless opportunity within the complex network of computer technology. As a junior web developer at BMS, Mr. McMahon concentrates on providing a unique human experience through seamless code and website creation from scratch. Constantly improving his abilities, he works to produce the highest level of invention possible on anything that crosses his screen. That is one thing that will never change.
